2019 Spring Ice Cream Social

Wednesday March 6, 2019, 1:00. – 3:00 p.m.
Community Services Building RM 330
200 E. Curry
Tempe, AZ

Ice cream socials are a traditional gathering dating back to the 18th century in North America. The first ice cream social in America was in 1744, when Maryland governor Thomas Bladen served ice cream for a dinner party. The first ice cream social in the White House was in 1802 with the 3rd U.S. president, Thomas Jefferson. So, Ice Cream Socials have been around a long time, but have you actually attended one? Now is your chance, the Luncheon and Special Events Committee is organizing an Ice Cream Social for the ASURA members

We are fortunate to have several members of The Phoenicians' Chorus join us (Phoenicians.org). Our very own, John Brock and David Schwalm are part of this Men's' Chorus and will be singing some barbershop songs, as well as telling us all about this unique vocal musical style. And maybe, just maybe, they might let us sing along.

Visit our Web site at http://asura.asu.edu for another copy of this form and for info on other ASURA events.
